Andy selected in Team GB Paralympic rugby squad

by Dick Townsend-
Smith

A GREENWICH athlete sponsored by the Starting Blocks charity is over the moon after being selected to play wheelchair rugby for the Great Britain team at the 2012 Paralympic Games in London.

Andy Barrow, 32, from Lee Green near Sutcliffe Park, told GT: "I'm delighted. It's a fantastic honour, particularly as I'll be playing in my own country and in my home town."

Andy got help from Greenwich Starting Blocks, the royal borough-sponsored charity for aspiring athletes. He said: "They have helped me with money and in return I've done public relations for them. They also gave me free membership of Greenwich Leisure Ltd so I can use the Eltham Centre for weight training at least once a week, because I really need a local centre where I can train."

"As from now though, all the hard work and the training continues. We are spending time away at a training camp shortly to get ready for the Team GB launch in July."

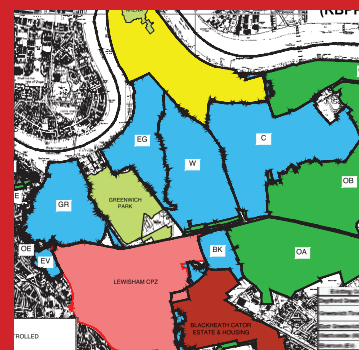

Despite his tough training schedule, Andy has found time to pay a series of visits to school in the royal borough, sharing sporting tips and offering inspirational advice. His latest visit was to the Robert Owen Early Years Centre in

Residents only? Don't think so!

I WOULD like to comment on your story re the MOD being sorry that many residents were unable to view HMS Ocean. Myself and a friend were lucky, but we arrived approx 8.45am and joined the queue, which at that time was not too long, with photo I.D. proof of address as requested. We noticed many tourists with backpacks joining the queue. Once we were at the checkpoint, our bags were quickly checked, not thoroughly, our I.D. and proof of address were not asked for. The process was very smooth and we were on the City Cruiser to ferry us to the ship at 10.10am. But we were somewhat dismayed that very many people were not residents and were permitted to board HMS Ocean. We had a very enjoyable time and would recommend this to anyone, but if it was for local residents then I feel the I.D. and proof of address should have been checked
Amanda Easton, Motttingham

● THE MoD has apologised for late changes to boarding arrangements which meant that some local residents were unable to board the ship. We are talking to the MoD about further opportunities for residents to visit the ship when she returns a couple of weeks before the Games.

Actually, plans can be seen at all the times the library is open

I NOTE that the section notifying the public of planning applications states that the submissions and any plans can be seen between the hours of 9am to 4.30pm Monday to Thursday and 9am to 4pm Friday at Woolwich Public Library. This is misleading - these days and times refer to the periods when submissions and plans can be seen by consulting the planning help desk at the Woolwich Centre, 35 Wellington Street, SE18 6HQ. In fact, the submissions and plans can be seen at all the days and times the library is open. I consider that the advert should be amended to indicate the much longer periods of time that are available for inspection of the submissions and plans than is suggested in the current wording.

Philip Binns, Blackheath

● Thank you for pointing this out. While the hours shown in GT are those during which it is possible to discuss proposals with a planning officer at the Woolwich Centre, the library is open and the plans are available to view at the times stated in your letter. Future advertisements will be amended. Ed

Sarcastic report that really took the biscuit

I STARTED to read your back page on May 8 and could not believe that I was reading an article published by the community sponsors of Charlton Athletic. I was totally flabbergasted by how it had been put together. Peter Cordwell, is obviously no Charlton fan judging by the disparaging and sarcastic comments. He implies that the stadium was only full because of a cut price ticket deal and that there was nothing to play for - all the time his ticket was no doubt a press freebie! And what are references to "Division 3" and "Division 2" all about - these terms ceased to exist 20 years ago! Is he deliberately trying to dampen the achievement and saying that it's not worth celebrating because it's only the old "Division 3"? Well, perhaps your chief reporter from now on should just concentrate on watching Premiership football - sorry "Division 1" - where the biscuits are no doubt much better.

R.Jones, Charlton

Fostering has changed our lives

IN response to your story (One big family, GT May 15) I would like to say my wife Julie and I have been fostering for 17 years and it is so rewarding. Every child deserves a good start in life but we understand that a child now comes into care and needs fostering every 22 minutes. This means more foster carers are urgently needed. So I would urge anyone who has ever thought about fostering to get in touch with their local fostering service to visit www.22minutes.org.uk

Mayor made!

New First Citizen dons the robe

by Dick Townsend-Smith

THE Royal Borough of Greenwich has a new Mayor. Cllr David Grant, who represents Greenwich West, was sworn in at a ceremony at Woolwich Town Hall last Tuesday, May 22.

He told GT: "My main mayoral charity for the year will be raising funds for the Alzheimer's Society and dementia research nationally, as well as the local group in Greenwich and Lewisham, who do great work in the area. I want to support both the patients and their carers."

"A huge number of people suffer from Alzheimer's in the UK, and I'm concerned that older people get neglected. It costs society about £23 billion a year, and the 670,000 voluntary carers who are mainly family members save the UK £8 billion a year."

"My second charity, although a lesser one, will be raising money for the further restoration of St Alfege Church. It's an important building, and it's in my ward. It needs a lot of money to repair the rest of the roof and the sides, involving washing and replacing masonry."

"For me, one of the highlights of my year will be the Diamond Jubilee river pageant on the Thames. It will be absolutely fascinating and intriguing. Obviously, the 2012 Games will be the major event, but I don't yet know what my role will be as Mayor."

"I've been Deputy Mayor for the last year, and what I've enjoyed most is visiting local organisations in the voluntary sector, and meeting people who help the local community. The number of people in the royal borough who do good things is absolutely amazing. And I will enjoy visiting our schools because my whole professional life has been in education."

Cllr Grant was born in 1938 in Croydon. He read English at Jesus College, Oxford, and did two years national service in the Royal Navy, serving on HMS Narvik.

He taught English for 18 years at schools that included Crown Woods in Eltham. He then spent 18 years as one of Her Majesty's Inspectors of Schools, based in London and Derbyshire.

Moving the nomination of Cllr David Grant as Mayor, councillor Chris Roberts, leader of the royal borough said: "If this year is about anything, it is about aspiration. The Olympic Games will provide a further boost as the images of the most iconic venues of London 2012 are beamed around the world. And we shall use the Games to market Greenwich, our new masterpans and the opportunities they offer."

Outgoing Mayor reflects on an 'astonishing year'

by Dick Townsend-Smith

OUTGOING Mayor Jim Gillman has been looking back at his astonishing year in office - one which saw Greenwich becoming a royal borough, visits by both Her Majesty The Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh, and preparations getting underway for the 2012 London Olympic Games.

Cllr Gillman was no stranger to the job, having been the Mayor of Greenwich in 1985. So what was it like for him this time round? "It was very different from my first time as Mayor," he told GT. "It was a different era then, but on both occasions it was just as satisfying for me."

"Being the Diamond Jubilee year was one of the most important aspects, giving me the opportunity to welcome Her Majesty and Prince Philip to Greenwich."

PLAY TIME: Cllr Gillman with some of the royal borough's youngsters

But Jim considers one of his biggest successes was helping to arrange a series of visits by groups of young people and schoolchildren to the Town Hall in Wellington Street, Woolwich.

He said: "It means the children could learn how their community and its administration works, and that's good for our future. You hear so many people saying they have never been there. I hosted many visits, including 44 children from Middle Park Primary School and it was great."

"They were able to learn about the Mayor's role and they now know they can aspire to be a mayor themselves. These visits have been well received. I'd like to thank all the people who helped me, such as the town hall staff and people in the community."

"I'd also like to thank my wife, Janet. We've been married 52 years, and she has been Mayor twice herself. So it's very much a family partnership."

Cllr Gillman's Mayor's Charity for his year in office was the Greenwich and Bexley Community Hospice. "A year ago I said I wanted not only to raise funds, but also raise people's awareness of it."

"This is particularly important because it means more people will be persuaded to make financial donations to it. I would have liked to have raised more money, but my sponsoring it has brought greater awareness among people about what the hospice does."

YOUNG green fingers from Corelli College were busy at the famed Chelsea Flower Show again this year.

The school was among nine Greenwich schools who won a prestigious Silver Gilt Award at last year's flower show.

This year the team grew chillies, cucumbers, tomatoes, strawberries and gerberas for the Royal Horticultural Society's main event.

There were more schools involved this year, so the college from Corelli Road had to face a team of judges to make the final selection - which they did with great aplomb.

With the Queen's Diamond Jubilee as the theme for schools, the Corelli entry - sponsored by Miracle-Gro - was designed by landscape architect Geoff Whitten and gardening broadcaster Peter Seabrook.

Lucy, from Year 7, told GT: "Green Scene is a great, active club that I would really encourage people to join. It opens doors to a whole lot of new opportunities. You get to meet loads of great people who have the same interests. It's great for us all to share our love of growing plants."

Sehlah, also from Year 7, said: "It's amazing to grow so many things like gerberas, cucumbers and chillies."

The Green Scene team went to the show, held from May 22-26, following a triumphant trip to a European flower festival.

The Floriade is a six-month festival in Holland that attracts entrants from all over the continent but, despite the recent weather, Green Scene scooped first prize.

Green Scene organiser Tracey Nutton said: "Knowing how poor the weather has been we weren't expecting too much, but off we went with our fingers crossed and were shocked and delighted to win."

Gardening broadcaster Peter Seabrook said: "The junior Alan Titchmarshes from Corelli faced stiff competition from schools in Belgium, Holland, and Germany, but they had more flowers and more buds developing than the other countries' efforts."

An Olympic honour for top local swimmer...

Master stroke for the Olympics

by Peter Cordwell

FIFTEEN-year-old swimmer Natasha Sinha has her heart set on competing in the 2016 Olympics. In the meantime, she's pulled off a master-stroke for the forthcoming London Games and is one of 35 torchbearers carrying the Olympic torch through Greenwich on July 21.

Cambridge Harrier Natasha, who lives in Blackheath, told GT: "I feel very proud and honoured to be selected to carry the Olympic torch through my home borough, the Royal Borough of Greenwich."

"I feel I am representing not only myself but all the other young athletes in Royal Greenwich who train equally as hard in a multitude of sports. I'm sure this experience will inspire me for the future."

Nominated by her mother, Natasha was chosen for her swimming achievements but is also the London Schools Cross-Country and 1500m champion. Her sister, 12-year-old Sabrina, is the national cross-country champion in her age group.

Their proud mum said: "We won't find out until four weeks before the event where exactly Natasha will be carrying the torch for 300 metres. There'll be a party in the evening when all the torchbearers can talk about the experience."

Natasha is already a Starting Blocks ambassador for the royal borough and her achievements include a silver medal at the national swimming championships when she was 12.

"She's been a part of the England Talent Programme for swimming since 12 and was part of the schools team that represented England in the world cross-country championships in Malta in March," said Angela.

Natasha, who swims backstroke and butterfly, will be competing in the national championships in Sheffield the day before. If she reaches the 200m backstroke final she won't be able to compete because she'll be carrying the torch.

"That's how important it is for Natasha, a once in a lifetime opportunity," said Angela. "She's too young for the Olympics this year but is hoping to make the team for 2016. She'll have to do something special for that but we never say never."

PLANS for managing traffic during the Games have been approved by royal borough planners.

Special arrangements for parking in many parts of the royal borough during the Games were also approved by the borough's planning board at a meeting in Woolwich last Thursday.

The final arrangements, presented by the London Organising Committee of the Olympic and Paralympic Games (LOCOG), include a number of changes that the Royal Borough of Greenwich negotiated on behalf of local residents and businesses to limit the impact of the Games locally as much as possible.

The approved plans detail traffic and transport arrangements around Greenwich Park - venue for the Equestrian events. They also list areas in the royal borough which will need special parking permits during the Games so residents' parking is protected.

Temporary measures which come into force during Games Time include:

- a temporary one-way system in Greenwich town centre during the Games

- a walking route that up to 50,000 spectators will be marshalled through on their way to the venue at Greenwich Park

- the temporary suspension of some parking bays and the closure of a small number of roads during Games Time

- extending parking controls in existing zones - and introducing some new temporary zones.

The royal borough has been scrutinising LOCOG'S plans to balance the needs of local residents and businesses with the smooth operation of the Games. It ensured a number of changes to the original ideas put forward - for example, denying LOCOG use of large numbers of bays in public car parks so that locals could still have access throughout the Games period.

New temporary parking controls will be in force to prevent spectators from parking close to Olympic venues or using other parts of the borough to park.

The Resident & Business Parking Protection Area will cover the majority of the borough north of Shooters Hill and the old A2, (see map).

It includes areas within existing Controlled Parking Zones (CPZs) and temporary Event Day Zones (EDZ). Locals affected will be written to with more information about the new controls and what they need to do.

Residents and businesses, who currently don't have parking permits, will need to get one - free of charge - during the Games if they are in the temporary parking zones.

Temporary permits are free of charge and eligible households can also apply for permits for visitors. Businesses can apply for up to ten permits.

Councillor Ray Walker, chair of the royal borough's planning board said:

"For the last few months we've worked extremely closely with residents and businesses to make sure that LOCOG's plans fully take into account their needs. Of course the Games will have an impact while they're on and our aim is to keep daily life for residents as normal as possible while staging a Games in Royal Greenwich that we can all be proud of. What we need now is for everyone to start planning how they might make any changes needed to their daily routine during the two and a half weeks of Games time. We all want the events we stage in Royal Greenwich to be a great success, while making sure that our residents and businesses can also capitalise upon and fully enjoy this fantastic event in the Royal Borough's history."

Pupils showcase royal and Olympic projects

GETTING THEIR KICKS: Cardwell school pupils Lucie Hamshere and Kade Answer demonstrate their taekwondo skills for Cllr Brian O' Sullivan

CHILDREN at Cardwell primary school have had their own training regime for the Olympic Games.

Since September the Woolwich school has been holding taekwondo, football and sports classes in preparation. They've been organised to inspire and encourage pupils to get fit and to make them feel part of the London Olympics in their own special way.

Most popular is taekwondo which has a waiting list because it's so oversubscribed.

The Eastern artform teaches self-defence as well as discipline and respect for others.

"I've really enjoyed these classes because they've made me feel safer and I've learnt lots of skills and movements," said nine-year-old Lucie Hamshere.

"I've learnt to defend myself and have self-control and I'm more confident," added Kade Answer, also nine.

The school was recently visited by GB 200 metre runner James Ellington who talked about his career and how he trains. He also got involved in a sponsored event which involved the children taking part in various exercises at the same time.

"It was really exciting to see him as I've never met a famous person before. He ran so fast and had big muscles," said Demi-Lea Woods.

Cllr Brian O Sullivan visited the school to see project work to be featured in their Exhibition of Excellence show in June.

Their collection of books is based on a book by Jeannie Baker called 'The Mirror', about different cultures highlighting one family in Australia and another in North Africa.

EGGS-CITED: Foxfield pupils show their Faberge-style eggs display to Cllr Harry Singh after receiving their royal borough commemorative coins

Yours sincerely from the Queen

NOT many people can say they've got a letter from the Queen hanging over their mantel piece. But Cherry Orchard schoolgirl Fareedah Lawal (pictured left) can say just that. The Year 4 pupil from the Charlton primary school wrote a letter to the Queen in celebration of the borough becoming royal and received a response back from Her Majesty. She told GT: "I thought it would be nice to write to the Queen and ask her how she was and tell her it would be lovely to meet her. When I got a letter back I was so excited. My friends wanted to read it over and over again - they couldn't believe it. Now we keep the letter in a frame at home for all my family to see." Fareedah added: "Our school is 60 years old, as long as the Queen has been in power and I think that's really special to share the same age as her reign".

FOXFIELD pupils were egg-static about the borough turning royal and celebrated by designing some eggs fit for the Queen.

Headteacher Matt Dixon told GT: "We thought we'd celebrate the borough becoming royal and the Diamond Jubilee by designing Faberge-style eggs which is what we at Foxfield are renowned for! We held a competition and asked the pupils to design an egg with their personal touch. The judges were impressed with a lot of the designs, particularly some styled as the Queen herself sitting on the throne, along with some of Her Majesty on the toilet!"

He added: "There were also some traditionally-styled eggs with the Union Jack. The children were thrilled and delighted to be doing this project for the occasion."

Adult learning's big splash

THE TU Study Centre is offering courses on everything from computer basics to...scuba diving.

The centre on Polytechnic Street in Woolwich gives adult learners the chance to improve skills and confidence.

The centre is introducing the underwater sessions this year, and is gearing its courses in 2012 towards sports.

It primarily deals in getting adults up and running with mice and keyboards.

A pair of students got their certificates for their skills in IT on May 15 after completing a two-month course in computers and online basics. Christine Hills received her award from MP Clive Efford, and said: "Coming here helped me get a job. I've extended my knowledge and gave me the confidence to improve my computer skills."

Christine's pal Monica Gobourne also got her certificate, and added: "At work I'm a cleaner, and with what I've learned I now know how to make all the new signs and print them out. "I now want to start my own business as an art therapist."

Volunteer at the centre, Anne Price told GT: "With this being an Olympic year, we are trying to set up opportunities for sports and active courses. There is a history walk which we are hoping to run in June, and we're looking at bringing back the cycling proficiency test.

"With these being tough financial times we are also teaching people thrift skills including embroidery. Christine and Monica are two of many people who come through the centre, and this can really make a difference to people's lives."

The study centre is on Polytechnic Street next door to the Citizen's Advice Bureau.

Residents urged to plan Games-time travel NOW

PEOPLE living or working in Royal Greenwich are being urged to plan their journeys and travel arrangements with extra care during this year's Olympic and Paralympic Games.

The royal borough is hosting a third of all the London 2012 events, which will mean a huge increase in the numbers of people using public transport.

Transport for London (TfL) has just released a full "hotspot" list of where and when Tube and rail services in the capital will be most affected. And the big message is: "Plan your travel well in advance, and explore alternative travel options."

Up to three million additional journeys are expected to be made in London alone on the busiest days of the Games. £6.5 billion has been invested in upgrading and extending transport links to increase capacity and improve services across London and the UK, including a 50 per cent increase in DLR capacity with the line extended to Woolwich and Stratford International. Local hotspots will include the DLR, which spectators will use to travel to and from events at Greenwich Park. London Bridge station will be exceptionally busy between 7am and 9.30am and 4pm to 9.30pm throughout the Olympic and Paralympic Games, including weekends. Spectators travelling to and from venues in the North Greenwich Arena, Greenwich Park and the Royal Artillery Barracks in Woolwich will pass through or change trains at London Bridge, and the Jubilee line at London Bridge will be very busy. The impact on the public transport network can be reduced by people working at alternative locations including home, staggering working hours, working longer but fewer days, taking annual leave or swapping to alternative forms of transport such as walking or cycling.

Rose still blooming!

Champagne and shandy at her 100th birthday

CORKS were popping at Russell Close in Charlton on May 10 when long-term resident Rose Holland celebrated her 100th birthday with family and friends.

Four generations were there for a party in the garden, where Rose proudly showed them her special birthday cake and a congratulatory card from The Queen.

Rose, who has three children, eight grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren, has lived in Charlton since 1940, and was the first person to move in when Russell Close was built 29 years ago. "Mum is really excited with having all her family and friends here," said daughter Rita, 72, who was there with her twin brother Roy, and sister Marion, 68. "She's had lots of presents from people, who have given her jewellery broaches, chocolates and flowers."

Rose used to work as a cleaner at the old Brook Hospital, Shooters Hill, as well as a factory and a brewery, and celebrated her special day with a glass of shandy. She said: "After working for the brewery I still like a glass of shandy - but this is the first one I've had since Christmas!"

The open day to widen your horizons

BILLY goats, bear hunts, bee keeping and baking - they're just some of the attractions at this year's Open Day at the Environmental Curriculum Service (ECS) at 77 Bexley Road in Eltham on Saturday, June 16.

The public will be able to explore the wildlife grounds, the ponds, forests and gardens, all free of charge. Doors open at 10am and the day is expected to wind up at 4pm. There will also be bee keeping, father's day card decorating, orienteering, name the goose, raffles and more. You can also snap up a bargain at one of the local produce market stalls selling crafts, food and art. Or just bring a picnic and enjoy the scenery.

"Being a charity our local community is very important to us", said organiser Tracy McDougall. "We're looking forward to welcoming back our regular visitors and showing new people the amazing grounds here and what we do."

The centre will be showcasing one of the courses they run for local school children - Forest Schools, an innovative outdoor learning concept that encourages children's independence and people can sign up.

The ECS serves local schools by providing adventurous outdoor learning experiences for children, and is run by Eltham-based charity Widehorizons, which runs six outdoor education centres across the country and believes that every child should have access to adventure.

The open day will be free of charge, but donations would be most welcomed.

Volunteers play major part in the Olympics

PEOPLE who work or study in the Royal Borough of Greenwich are being offered a chance to play a part in the London 2012 Games.

They're needed as volunteers to welcome spectators around the three Olympic venues: Greenwich Park, North Greenwich Arena (The O2) and the Royal Artillery Barracks in Woolwich. Volunteers will be needed between July 27 and August 12 for the Olympic Games and from August 29 to September 9 for the Paralympics.

Previously volunteer roles were only open to people who live in Greenwich, now the royal borough has extended the offer to the wider community. The role will involve helping spectators on their way to and from the Olympic venues and encouraging them to spend time locally. There will also be the opportunity for volunteers to help with various cultural events taking place during the London 2012 Games.

The Royal Borough of Greenwich is looking for people who are passionate about the Games and the local community, who will welcome visitors and show them all the great attractions that Royal Greenwich has to offer.

Sixty-four-year-old Jan Wilkins from Eltham will be meeting and greeting around the North Greenwich Arena and helping to promote the royal borough as a tourist destination.

She said: "I volunteered because the London Olympics is something that will never happen again in my lifetime and it's a unique opportunity to get involved and promote Greenwich in a positive light."

Fellow volunteer Martin Newman, a carer from Plumstead, said: "I was born in Greenwich and it means a lot to me to give something back to the borough I was born in."

The 46-year-old added: "It's a great privilege, it's an achievement that only comes by once in a lifetime and it'll be a good thing to put on my CV."

Cllr Peter Kotz, the royal borough's cabinet member for cultural and creative industries said: "Royal Greenwich has a wealth of visitor attractions which help bring around 18 million visitors to the area. We want to ensure that people receive a warm Greenwich welcome and that they enjoy first hand the rich heritage and cultural vibrancy our Royal Borough has to offer."

"I would encourage as many people as possible to put their names forward for this once in a lifetime opportunity. The royal borough wants both visitors and local residents to make the most of 2012 Games - and this is a real chance to be part of something really special."

Volunteer roles are open to anyone over 16 who lives, works or studies in the royal borough.

BHF shop benefits from a different tune

PEOPLE who play their music too loudly have paid the price for making life a misery for their neighbours - but it has brought a £1,000 cash windfall for a Woolwich charity shop.

Action by the royal borough's Noise Team over the past two years led to 25 seizures of equipment like music centres, TVs and CD players. It was all forfeited by orders of the court after a series of successful prosecutions. Some was given to a charity for the homeless, but of most of it - a large vanload - was passed on to the British Heart Foundation's shop in Hare Street. The shop reckons it can raise £1,000 by selling the equipment on to their customers. It includes a pair of speakers which have already sold for £300, and 3ftx3ft boom box stage equipment. Woolwich BHF store manager Maxine Williams told GT: "We are delighted that the royal borough has thought of us in this way. Their donations will help to save lives by giving us more of the money needed for research into preventing early deaths from heart disease."

Cllr Maureen O'Mara, cabinet member for community safety and environment, told GT: "We will not hesitate to take action against inconsiderate people who upset their neighbours by playing loud music or making other noise. "They are likely to have their property seized. However, some good has come out of this, and the British Heart Foundation has benefitted."

Go Andy!

COMMUNITY CHAMPION:
generous Andy Barrow gives up his time to visit the Robert
Owen Early Years Centre

Commerell Street, Greenwich on Friday morning, where he spoke to around 150 children and their parents.

Fiona Kemp, the head of the centre, said: "The visit went really. Andy talked informally to parents in the café and screened a slideshow of him playing in Beijing. He then went into the playground and met children showed them the wheelchair he plays rugby in, and how it worked and how he could manoeuvre it. The children were fascinated and they could see how it was quite bashed up from him using it to play wheelchair rugby."

"He told the children that it was good to play sport and keep fit and have fun, regardless of any disability. He talked to them about what he had achieved and his pride about competing in Beijing. It was a highly inspiring visit, and the parents were interested to hear from him and enjoyed asking him questions."

Andy added: "It was a very good visit to the Robert Owen centre. I've not talked to younger children before so it was all about them learning about what I do. I also spoke to a large number of parents, so it was a great morning."

Andy was GB rugby captain for the Beijing Games, and holds three European gold medals and a silver medal from the European Championships. During his visits to local schools he talks about his interest in rugby from an early age and described his career as a wheelchair rugby player. He told GT: "I like contact sports and the idea of working as a team. I was injured playing rugby at the age of 17 and during rehab I found I still loved it so I gave it a go again and it turned out to be more than just a hobby."

He also explains the differences between Olympics and the Paralympics, the rules of wheelchair rugby and shows children his practice rugby chair, and the six Olympic values and how important they are within sport and life.

He added: "I hope the children got a bit more knowledge about the Paralympics and disability today. There's so much hype over the Olympics and this is a good opportunity to highlight the Paralympics too."

Advice to foil thieves in pubs

ROYAL residents are reminded to protect their possessions and avoid tempting thieves in the latest campaign aimed at foiling thefts from the borough's pubs and clubs.

The Royal Greenwich Safer Communities team, in partnership with Met Police, is visiting venues in Greenwich town centre and The O2, offering advice to venue managers and handing out vinyl stickers carrying the message: 'Don't tempt them. Never leave your valuables unattended.' The stickers can be attached to tabletops, windows and mirrors and act as a visual reminder for customers. As an Olympic host borough, campaigners aim to ensure the message is clear before thousands of extra visitors arrive for the Games, so that visitors don't become victims either. Cllr Maureen O'Mara, cabinet member for community safety said: "Greenwich is a great place to live, work and visit. With so much to see and do it's easy for people to become distracted."

IT'S being billed as probably the biggest Royal Jubilee street party in the UK – and it's absolutely free.

The grounds of the Old Royal Naval College in Greenwich will be the setting for a massive picnic on Sunday (June 3), between noon and 5pm.

The event will feature the longest-ever lunch table – stretching two-thirds of a mile, where people can enjoy their picnics with family, friends and neighbours.

There will be live entertainment, market stalls selling food and hand-drawn beers, handmade crafts, and workshops on how to live more sustainably. There will also be special activities for children, including making a model ship from the Thames Diamond Jubilee Pageant.

Picnic-goers will be able to cheer as boats from the pageant float past the Old Royal Naval College and past the borough down the river.

Cllr Chris Roberts, leader of Royal Greenwich, said: "It is fitting that this massive street party will be hosted here in the same year in which Greenwich became a royal borough.

"I know that residents will be keen to celebrate The Queen's 60 years of service and I am sure that the Big Jubilee Lunch will be a great success. This is the chance to show thanks to Her Majesty for the honour she has bestowed upon our community while having a lot of fun at the same time."

No pre-booking is required for the picnic.

A THOUSAND boats will cruise through the Royal Greenwich riverside on Sunday (June 3) for Her Majesty The Queen's Diamond Jubilee Pageant.

The flotilla, which is travelling down to Tower Bridge, will be more seven miles long. It will pass under all 13 central London river crossings, and take at least 75 minutes to pass any given point. Many of the vessels taking part will continue down past Greenwich and beyond.

They include 12 music barges, and Gloriana, rowed by 18 oarsmen and women including Sir Matthew Pinsent, Sir Steve Redgrave, Paralympic champions and disabled British servicemen. The Queen and other senior members of the Royal Family will embark the Royal Barge - the Spirit of Chartwell - at Cadogan Pier at 2:30pm to join the flotilla.

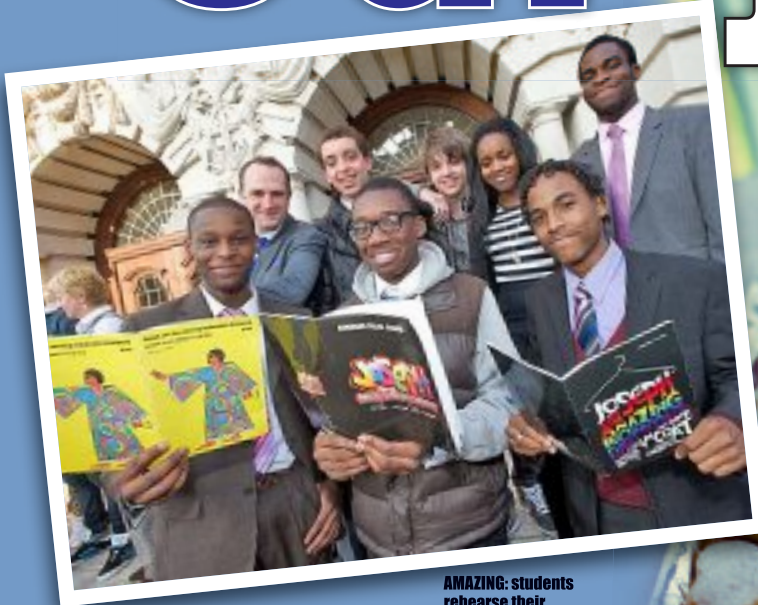

This unique spectacle will involve up to 20,000 participants on the water and up to a million spectators on the river banks and public spaces. Broadcasters expect the global audience to run into billions.

There will be around 190 safety vessels on the river, including police boats, Port of London Authority launches, and fire and rescue boats. A 'hard shoulder' will be used on the day to enable these safety vessels to move quickly and easily alongside the flotilla and be swiftly on hand to deal with any incidents.

The Thames Diamond Jubilee River Pageant will be the biggest collection of historic vessels ever assembled on the Thames. One of the vessels taking part, the Amazon, also took part in Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee, in 1897.

Celebrations are going on all over the royal borough for the Queen's Diamond Jubilee. GT went out and...

Oriana our Gloriana...

ST ALFEGE'S church in Greenwich celebrating the jubilee with music and dance from the golden age of the Queen Elizabeth I.

The Elizabethan Age is brought to life on Saturday June 2 in an evening of music and dance performed by players dressed in period costume.

Elizabeth I has strong links to the newly minted royal borough – she was born at the Palace of Placentia – now the site of the Old Royal Naval College – on 7 September 1533.

She was given many different names by poets and composers of the day who were keen to win her favour.

'Oriana' was a poetic description given to her, and organiser Annie Bright named the event The Triumphs of Oriana.

She told GT: "The name comes from madrigals written to honour the queen at the time – which all had to end with the same two lines.

"There were 25 written which were compiled at the end of her reign. We will be performing two of them on the night."

The evening of choir music, verse and performance is tied together by a wandering storyteller – also dressed in full regalia, and at the climax the queen herself is putting in an appearance.

"She's coming by barge, because that's the way she used to travel back then," Annie said.

A party at St Mary's

ST MARY'S Community Centre is opening its doors for a Diamond Jubilee showcase of creative arts. Locals have been busy creating the decorations and exhibitions pieces for a two-day celebration for the Queen's Diamond Jubilee. And it will all be on show from Friday evening.

The centre in Eltham received a Big Lottery Grant to help fund their Jubilee celebrations. It includes a series of creative workshops where locals have produced bunting, banners and table decorations alongside the centre's artist in residence Madhumita Bose. The artworks will be on display from Friday along with slogans, poems, and drawings with a jubilee theme sent in by other locals.

The free two-day extravaganza will also feature music and dance performances, an exhibition about the history of Eltham, stalls and craft workshops. Centre director Patrick O'Sullivan told GT: "We'd like the Diamond Jubilee to bring Eltham people together from all sectors of the community to celebrate in style. We hope that they feel that they're contributing by sharing their talents and good natures".

The St Mary's high street party runs from 5pm-9pm on Friday, June 1 and from 11am-2pm on Saturday, June 2.

BIG screen

THE royal borough's Greenwich Summer Festival invites you to watch all the Olympic action on a 15m big screen set in the surrounds of the Old Royal Naval College.

The historic lawns of one of London's most famous riverside landmarks could be the best place to keep up with all the action during the summer ahead.

The festival runs from July 4 to August 12, is free and the screen will be showing all the biggest events from the London 2012 Games during the day and turning alfresco cinema by night with Greenwich Picturehouse presenting new releases and cult classics.

Set against the backdrop of the naval college in Greenwich town centre, there will be live music on the Bandstand, and Meantime Brewing Co. in the River Bar.

The big screen is one of the many events at the Greenwich Summer Festival which takes to the lawns of the naval college.

Puppet premiere at GDIF

Crowing!

THE GREENWICH FESTIVALS plays host to the world premiere of Crow at the Borough Hall next month.

The puppet extravaganza was commissioned by the Royal Borough of Greenwich and was developed by the Handspring Puppet Company - the team behind the original War Horse production, before it was made into a movie blockbuster by Steven Spielberg.

It runs from June 21-July 7, and is based on the Ted Hughes poetry cycle of the same name, which the writer described as his 'masterpiece'.

The state-of-the-art puppets join dancers on the stage at the hall on Royal Hill, in the show which is supported by Greenwich Theatre and the National Theatre.

Crow was adapted by Olivier Award nominee, writer and director Matthew Dunster and Handspring UK's Artistic Director, Mervyn Millar.

Crow is on at the Borough Hall from June 21-July 7, Mon-Sat @ 8pm. Tickets are £12-£18. Preview shows June 18-20.

GDIF plays big part in Greenwich Festivals...

BIG summer

GRAND LAWNS: the ORNC is the backdrop for the Greenwich Summer Festival

THE GREENWICH FESTIVALS

THE Greenwich and Docklands International Festival kicks off in less than a month, with an outdoor spectacular, street theatre, a Victorian carnival and a world premiere...

It's part of the royal borough's summer-long series of events, The Greenwich Festivals, and runs from June 21-30.

The first performance of the Handspring puppet company's Crow, (see far left) based on the Ted Hughes poem of the same name, comes to the Borough Hall on June 18, combining state-of-the-art figures with contemporary dance.

The Greenwich Fair takes place on June 23-24, re-living the ghoulish, the grotesque and the downright weird from centuries past.

Prometheus Awakes, is an outdoor show that's three storeys high. It's an international affair, with the UK's Graeae theatre company teaming up with Spaniards, La Fura dels Baus. Seventy-two performers undertake the huge operation.

Scene caught up with Graeae director Amit Sharma. He said: "We've recreated the well known story of Prometheus – the myth is about fire and the creation of humanity."

"Six people operate the puppet, there's a vessel-like structure that holds 16 people which represents fire, a big wheel – a wheel of destruction, which has eight people operating that as well as a 'net' made up of 42 people."

The show is made up of three different elements.

"It's all hung together with a narrative," he added. "There are the puppets and the set pieces, the performers. There's also the Queen's House with a projection screen."

Fingers crossed the weather holds out. Amit joked: "Well, I've written to God, and I've emailed him a couple of times, and I've said 'no thunder, no rain, definitely no wind' – but he's not got back to me just yet!" The Greenwich Festivals runs throughout the summer, and includes Parksfest from June 2-July 29, the Peninsula Festival from June 3, comedy festival from July 13-20, and dance festival on now until July 15.

Cllr Peter Kotz, the royal borough's member for culture and creative industries said: "The Greenwich and Docklands International Festival is playing an important cultural role as well as promoting Greenwich and bolstering the local economy."

Time to take part

STREET performers interested in making a mark for the 2012 Games are invited along to open auditions in General Gordon Square on Monday June 4 at 5pm. Street theatre, jugglers and mimes all welcome, and the best get to perform at one of the Olympic venues. Applicants should prepare two sets of five-minute performances.

ALEXANDRA HALL, CHARLTON Crown Matrimonial Thursday June 7-Saturday June 9

IT'S an era made famous by Colin Firth in The King's Speech, but now the Alexandra Players are doing their own take on the English monarchy of the 1930s, in Crown Matrimonial.

It's set a couple of years before Bertie's stuttering speech, focusing on the abdication of Edward VIII in 1936 and his relationship with Wallis Simpson.

The Royce Ryton-penned drama is a departure of sorts for the Charlton group, who are most known for their drily delivered comedies. But don't worry, Scene caught a sneak peek of this new one, and it looks to be a right royal corker. It shows the ambition of the am-dram group – who should really be called a pro-dram group, having laid on a slick slew of punch-packing performances at their HQ on Bramshot Avenue.

They have shuffled the pack once again for this one – Roy Moore taking up directing duties – and made for the lead role is the matriarch of the group, Janet Sweet.

Roy told Scene: "We wanted to find a play that was appropriate to the jubilee – it's all about duty versus love."

It's writer Ryton's imaginative behind-the-scenes version of events, and though Simpson herself does not appear, her spirit looms large. "I guess it might be quite accurate," Roy added. "The play was written in the 1970s and had a long West End run before it was revived a couple of years ago. And reading some of the reviews and with what's gone on since, it perhaps has even more significance now." And though it may be billed as a drama, the eight actors still manage to inject the group's trademark sense of comic timing. Roy said: "It's a bit like Titanic – everyone knows what the ending is! But it's got touches of dry humour here and there." RK

WINDOW PAIN: Queen Mary, the Countess of Airlie and Edward VIII

Signs of the times

CORELLI College students were invited on a top-secret mission to watch the effects of climate change from space, writes Grace Lipski.

The group were driven to a covert location in central London where they were shown what might be in store for our planet if global warming continues at the current rate.

The secret summit was part of the Signs of Change project that has been going on at the Kidbrooke school - which climaxed in a big finale involving youngsters from local primary schools.

The college on Corelli Road invited six borough primary schools - Charlton Manor, Cherry Orchard, Cardwell, Plumcroft, Sherington and Kidbrooke Park - to share their ideas on helping to create a healthier planet.

The Corelli eco-champions chosen for the special mission then had to use their new knowledge to mentor the schools in 'creative activism', and help the them create artworks or 'signs of change' which were big enough to be seen from space.

Corelli College student Louis Hodson, 12, told GT: "We've been helping the local primary schools learn about the Olympics and how to save energy and to recycle more. I've liked inspiring the younger children to save the planet.

"One thing I've learned to be more eco-friendly about, is to not leave my Xbox on if I'm not using it!" Mohamed Osman, 12, added: "We've been making temporary signs out of bodies with us joining up in big shapes to be seen from space - that's been fun, exhausting, but fun.

"We also made an artwork made out of compost, tissue paper and cardboard. I learned that saving energy can be easy enough - you just have to turn off all electrical stuff when you aren't using it". Each school made pledges of change to show how they would reduce their carbon footprint and be more sustainable in the future.

Royal Greenwich Council's Choice Based Lettings Scheme

Edition 289

How the lettings policy works

Housing applicants are placed within 'Bands' according to the the Royal Borough of Greenwich's policy for letting homes. Your band information is on the letter that the Council sent you when you registered, or when your circumstances changed. Property adverts say which band can apply and any other criteria. When all the bids are received, the property is then offered to: For properties advertised for band A and band B - the applicant who has had this priority status for the longest time. For properties advertised for band C applicants - the applicant who has been registered on the Council's list for the longest time.

BAND

- A is for applicants in unsatisfactory housing, including people moving due to demolition and those underoccupying their homes.
- B is for applicants the Royal Borough of Greenwich must prioritise according to the law, particularly homeless people, and others with an urgent need to move for medical or welfare reasons.
- C is for all applicants on the housing register, including those that are in priority bands A and B.

How do I apply?

1 Get on the list

First, you've got to be on the housing waiting list to join the scheme. If you're not, register an application on line at

2 Find your applicant number

It will be on the letter you've already had from the Royal Borough of Greenwich about the new scheme. You'll need that number and the reference number of the property you're after, which will be on the advert.

3 Pick out your ideal property

by looking in Royal Greenwich Time or regularly checking the website:

www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk/homes

Click on your preference on the website. If you don't have a computer, you can always use one for free in either your neighbourhood housing office, library or UK Online centre.

4 Apply in one of two ways

- Phone the 24-hour hotline 020 8921 4340. It's an automatic push-button system and calls will be charged at the normal local rate, or
- Via the Royal Borough of Greenwich's website www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk/homes

The next edition of GreenwichHomes will be available on Wednesday 6 June 2012 at midday and will include any Housing Association properties when available. Closing date for all applications for this issue is midnight on Sunday 3 June 2012.*

The Greenwich (Woolwich Arsenal) (Parking Places) (Amendment No. *) Order 201***

1. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Council of the Royal Borough of Greenwich, with the agreement of the London Borough of Lewisham, proposes to make the above-mentioned Orders under sections 6, 45, 46, 49 and 124 of and Part IV of Schedule 9 to the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 and section 14(4) of the London Olympic Games and Paralympic Games Act 2006.
2. The general effect of the Olympic Games and Paralympic Games Orders would be to give parking priority to residents and local businesses in all areas within the Royal Borough of Greenwich affected by the London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games (hereinafter referred to as "the Games") by discouraging spectators from parking in the vicinity of the venues being used for the Games. This would be achieved as follows:

- (a) in the following Controlled Parking Zones (CPZs): Blackheath — Kidbrooke ("BK"), Blackheath — Lee ("BL"), Charlton ("C"), Deptford Green ("DG"), East Greenwich ("EG"), Elverson Road ("EV"), Greenwich Town Centre ("G"), Plumstead Station ("PL"), Westcombe Park ("W"), Woolwich Arsenal ("WA") and Woolwich Dockyard ("WD") during the period of 26th July to 9th September 2012 inclusive:

- (i) the operational hours of all on-street parking places, loading bays and waiting restrictions would be extended so that they would operate between 8:30am and 7:00pm on Mondays to Sundays inclusive (hereinafter called "Games Times"). Any parking places, loading bays or waiting restrictions that already commence earlier or finish later than Games Times (such as "Blue Badge" disabled persons' parking places, car club bays, motorcycle bays, "at any time" waiting restrictions and certain free parking places) would continue to operate during those longer operational hours as normal;

- (ii) CPZ residents and business permits would continue to be valid during Games Times. CPZ residents and business visitors' vouchers would NOT be valid during Games Times. However, each resident in an affected CPZ would be entitled to apply for up to two free Games Times CPZ Resident's Visitors' Permits and each business user in "C", "EG" and "W" CPZs would be entitled to apply for up to 10 free Games Times CPZ Business Visitors' Permits. These visitors' permits would only be valid in CPZ permit-holder parking places in the CPZ for which they were issued. These visitors' permits would not be vehicle-specific and there would be no maximum period of stay for visitor permit-holders throughout Games Times;

- (iii) during Games Times, all existing free parking places within each CPZ would be converted to shared-use parking places in which CPZ permit-holders and Games Times CPZ visitors' permit-holders would be able to park without time limit and with no restrictions on return. This change of use would also continue to apply at any free parking places during any existing hours of operation outside of Games Times, except at free parking places that operate at any time;

- (iv) during Games Times, the maximum stay period for non-permit holders at the shared-use parking places described in paragraph 2(a)(iii) above would become 2 hours with no return in 3 hours, EXCEPT at those free parking places with an existing maximum stay of 1 hour or less in the "BL", "C", "EG", "G", "W", "WA" and "WD" CPZs which would retain their existing maximum stay and no return periods. Existing shared-use CPZ permit-holder / short-stay free parking places would also retain their existing maximum stay and no return periods;

- (v) except as described above, the classes of vehicles which can use the parking places within those CPZs, any charges for parking therein and all permit issue and use would remain the same as at present, albeit the hours of control would be extended and any pay and display or meter parking places would necessitate payment of the parking charge during their extended operational hours; and

- (vi) certain exceptions to the above changes will be published in due course and would be signed accordingly at their respective locations;

- (b) during the period of 26th July to 9th September 2012 inclusive, five Event Day Parking Zones (EDZs) would be introduced in the roads referred to in the Schedule to this Notice:

- (i) all existing on-street parking places, loading bays and waiting restrictions in the EDZs would continue to operate as normal but outside of those hours of operation and within Games Time those lengths of roads would be restricted to EDZ permit-holders or EDZ visitors' permit-holders without time limit, or non-permit-holders for a maximum of 2 hours, no return in 3 hours. Any parking places, loading bays or waiting restrictions that already commence earlier or finish later than Games Times (such as "Blue Badge" disabled persons' parking places, car club bays, motorcycle bays, "at any time" waiting restrictions and certain free parking places) would continue to operate during those longer operational hours as normal;

- (ii) during Games Times, uncontrolled lengths of roads would be restricted to EDZ permit-holders or EDZ visitors' permit-holders without time limit, or non-permit-holders for a maximum of 2 hours, no return in 3 hours;

- (iii) on any lengths of single yellow lines after their hours of operation but within Games Times, parking would be restricted to EDZ permit-holders or EDZ visitors' permit-holders without time limit or non-permit holders for a maximum of 2 hours, no return in 3 hours;

- (iv) parking places which are restricted to certain users and operate "at any time" (such as "Blue Badge" disabled persons' parking places, car club bays and motorcycle bays) would continue to be available only to those users; parking places which are restricted to certain users and do NOT operate "at any time" would become available to EDZ permit-holders or EDZ visitors' permit-holders outside their existing operational hours during Games Times (such as certain doctors' bays which normally finish at midday on Saturday — these would become available to EDZ permit-holders between midday and 7:00pm and on Sundays between 8:30am and 7:00pm);

- (v) during Games Times, all existing free parking places within each EDZ would be converted to shared-use parking places in which EDZ permit-holders and EDZ visitors' permit-holders would be able to park without time limit and with no restrictions on return. This change of use would also continue to apply at any free parking places during any existing hours of operation outside of Games Times, except at free parking places that operate at any time;

- (vi) during Games Times, the maximum stay period for non-permit holders at the shared-use parking places described in paragraph 2(b)(v) above would become 2 hours with no return in 3 hours, EXCEPT at those free parking places with an existing maximum stay of 1 hour or less which would retain their existing maximum stay and no return periods;

- (vii) each resident who lives in an EDZ would be:

- (A) either granted or be eligible to apply for one EDZ Permit for one specified vehicle. These would be issued automatically to owners of vehicles registered to an address within a road referred to in the Schedule to this Notice. Certain essential workers, doctors, medical practitioners and resident's carers would also be eligible for EDZ permits; and
- (B) eligible to apply for up to two EDZ Visitors' Permits (these would not be vehicle-specific).

- (viii) each business user who carries out business in an EDZ would be:

- (A) either granted or be eligible to apply for one EDZ Permit for one specified vehicle. These would be issued automatically to vehicles registered to an address within a road referred to in the Schedule to this Notice; and
- (B) eligible to apply for up to 10 EDZ Visitors' Permits (these would not be vehicle-specific).

- (ix) all EDZ Permits and EDZ Visitors' Permits would be specific to the EDZ for which they were issued and could not be used in other EDZs; and

- (x) all EDZ permits would be free of charge; and

[Note: (i) the permit system would operate either with a hard copy (paper or card) permit or by a "virtual" permit system where eligible vehicle registration numbers would be held by the Council on a "virtual permit" list of vehicles authorised to park in the

EDZs; and (ii) vehicles displaying a valid disabled person's blue badge and motorcycles would be eligible to park in the EDZs without the requirement to display an EDZ permit.]

- (c) during the period of 26th July to 9th September 2012 inclusive:

- (i) in Beresford Street, Plumstead Road, Woolwich Church Street, Woolwich High Street and Woolwich Road, the days on which all parking places, loading bays and waiting restrictions operate would additionally include Sundays at the same times as they presently operate; and

- (ii) the hours of control of the entire length of single yellow line waiting restriction within the bus lane on the south-west side of Shooters Hill approaching the Academy Road / Well Hall Road junction would be extended to operate from 7:00am to 7:00pm throughout the week.

3. For special occasions such as weddings or funerals the Council would have discretion to issue Special Permits which would grant certain parking dispensations.

4. The general effect of the Plumstead Station Area CPZ and Woolwich Arsenal Amendment Orders would be to correct minor drafting errors in their respective "parent" Orders.

5. A copy of the proposed Orders and other documents giving more detailed particulars of the Orders are available for inspection during normal office hours until the end of six weeks from the date on which the Orders are made or, as the case may be, the Council decides not to make the Orders, at the Directorate of Regeneration, Enterprise and Skills, Strategic Transportation, Royal Borough of Greenwich, The Woolwich Centre, 35 Wellington Street, SE18 6HQ.

6. Any person who wishes to object to or make other representations about the proposed Orders should send a statement in writing by 19th June 2012, specifying the grounds on which any objection is made, to the Royal Borough of Greenwich, PO Box 485, Kemp House, 152-160 City Road, London, EC1V 2NW (quoting reference PCL/TMO/PJ/10280-A).

7. Persons objecting to the proposed Orders should be aware that, in view of the Local Government (Access to Information) Act 1985, this Council would be legally obliged to make any comments received in response to this notice open to public inspection.

ROYAL BOROUGH OF GREENWICH The Greenwich (Prescribed Routes) (No. 155) Experimental Traffic Order 2012

1. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Council of the Royal Borough of Greenwich (hereinafter referred to as "the Council") on 25th May 2012 made the above-mentioned Order under section 4 of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, as amended. The Order will come into operation on 6th June 2012.
2. The general effect of the Order will be, as an experimental basis, to close to vehicular traffic the western extremity of Green Street at its junction with Greenwich South Street so that only pedal cycles and pedestrians will be permitted access.
3. The Order provides that in pursuance of section 10(2) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, the Assistant Director of Strategic Transportation at the Council, or some person authorised by him, may, if it appears to him or that person essential in the interests of the expeditious, convenient and safe movement of traffic or for preserving or improving the amenities of the area through which any road affected by the Order extends, modify or suspend the Order or any provision thereof.
4. Further information may be obtained by telephoning Strategic Transportation on 020 8921 5574.

6. If any person wishes to question the validity of the Order or of any of the provisions contained therein on the grounds that they are not within the powers conferred by the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, or that any requirement of that Act or of any instrument made under that Act has not been complied with, that person may, within six weeks from the date on which the Order was made, apply for that purpose to the High Court.
7. The Council will consider in due course whether the provisions of the Order should be continued in operation indefinitely by means of a permanent Order made under section 4 of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984. Any person may object to the making of the permanent Order for the purpose of such indefinite continuation, within a period of six months beginning with the date on which the experimental Order comes into operation or, if the Order is varied by another Order or Orders or modified pursuant to section 10(2) of the 1984 Act, beginning with the date on which the variation or modification or the latest variation or modification comes into operation. ## BMX riders get right on track

Lisa said: "Reece has been riding for years but never on a BMX track, so this one was the answer to our prayers. We heard about it November and joined straight away.

"We haven't looked back since. Both myself and Reece's dad, Perry, are on a very hardworking committee that's delighted with the progress we have made in so short a time."

Even happier was Reece, who goes to Deansfield primary school in Eltham. He said: "When I found out there was a new BMX track just round the corner from me I couldn't believe my luck. I have always loved riding bikes but there has never been anywhere for me to race people.

"I love BMX racing and would do it all the time if I could. It's so exciting and I have made some great new friends at the club. One day I hope to become a professional rider."

Nearly 100 young people aged 9-17 competed in the Balfour Beatty-sponsored event hosted by the royal borough.

Southwark were the inaugural winners of the Diamond Cup, with Havering second and Hillingdon third.

The track was developed from a successful bid to the Mayor of London's Playsport capital fund, which aims to get more people active in sport and improve Londoners' access to good quality affordable facilities.

Access Sport then worked in partnership with Greenwich Council and British Cycling to develop the Greenwich BMX club.

Meeting every Saturday morning in Hornfair Park the club provides a fantastic community resource. Find out more at www.facebook.com/greenwichbmx

Royal Greenwich Mayor Jim Gilman attended the event. He told GT: "This track will be a long-term Olympic legacy and I very much hope the children will have a great time on it both now and in the future. It has given us something to be proud of. Let's hope the future will see this park flourishing."

On our bikes!

Our team fourth at first attempt

by Peter Cordwell

IF anyone had any doubts about the BMX revolution in the royal borough, they were completely dispelled by our team's performance in the London Youth Games at the first time of asking.

Team Greenwich finished fourth from 17 boroughs - a turn-out that assures the sport's future at the Games - missing medals by just one point on their home track in Hornfair Park, Charlton.

Team manager Lisa Sheppard told GT: "It was a fantastic day. Considering our club, Greenwich BMX, has only been going since September, I thought we did brilliantly to finish fourth."

"Everyone worked so hard and together we really pulled it out of the bag. We had one senior player pull out and the only reserve we had to replace him was a 10-year-old boy, Killian Callway, who tried his heart out, bless him."

There was family pride for Lisa too when her son, Reece Datson - 11 today, May 29 - who won an individual bronze medal.
